

HUMAN RIGHTS:

HOW LESSONS LEARNED FROM THE CDM CAN INFORM THE DESIGN OF NEW MARKET MECHANISMS

The CDM has come under criticism for failing to protect human rights, including rights to lands and resources. At this event, experiences with CDM projects will be presented and discussed with a panel of experts. Speakers and panelists will discuss the role of safeguards, grievance processes and robust stakeholder consultation rules in the CDM and other mechanisms, such as REDD+.

At the occasion of the event, the research study 'Glimpse from the ground: analysis of selected CDM projects in India' and case studies from projects in Honduras, Guatemala and Panama will be published.

FRIDAY, 15
NOVEMBER 2013,
11:30 -13:00

THE NATIONAL STADIUM | WARSAW,
ROOM CRACOW (LEVEL 2, ZONE B2)

SPEAKERS:

- Local realities of coal power projects in India, Falguni Joshi, Gujarat Forum on the CDM
- Challenges for indigenous peoples in the CDM: The Barro Blanco experience, Joana Abrego, Centro de Incidencia Ambiental
- Experience with REDD+ participation rights, Juan Carlos Carrillo, Centro Mexicano de Derecho Ambiental
- Role of international standards and accountability processes, Alyssa Johl, Center for International Environmental Law

PANEL DEBATE WITH:

- John Kilani, Director, Sustainable Development Mechanisms, UNFCCC Secretariat
- Peer Stiansen, Chair of the CDM Executive Board (tbc)
- Clifford Mahlung, Head of the Meteorological Service, Jamaica
- Gareth Philips, Project Developer Forum

For more information and an updated programme, visit

<http://carbonmarketwatch.org/category/climate-negotiations/carbon-market-watch-at-cop19/>.

If you have any questions, please contact Eva Filzmoser, Director Carbon Market Watch at eva.filzmoser@carbonmarketwatch.org or +48 724 02 96 71.